

Kimberly Campbell

July 17, 1989 - June 23, 2020

Kimberly Campbell was born in the middle of summer on July 17th, 1989. This sweet baby girl filled with smiles and life would bring the sunshine wherever she went from that day forward. As the youngest daughter of Scott and Dawna Campbell, there was no shortage of love in her home between her parents and her siblings Roger, Kelley, Kara, and Richard.

Growing up in her mom's dance studio, she fell in love with the authentic self-expression that dance cultivated. Dance became her native language; passed down from mother, to sisters, and then to her. She was clearly the final exclamation point! She was a member of the Hi-Lo Drill and Cheer teams at Logan High. She was also a competitive international latin ballroom dancer and danced professionally with the Phoenix Suns. Anyone that knew her knows that you count her in with a 5..6..7..8.. and she would light up! She was the first to play in the rain or tap dance through a store. She loved a spotlight and a grand performance, and nobody could work a room the way she could. Kimberly Campbell was the true embodiment of joy.

An expert in performance and presentation; she had a knack for finding the worth in everything and showcasing it. This applied not only to her career in real estate, but to the people she loved. She showcased their value and celebrated them. She worked at Meritage Homes where she was able to sell beautiful new builds. She always loved showing off a kitchen or master closet and couldn't resist painting a picture for the buyer. From there she made a home and a name for herself at HomeLight. She loved her work family and took such pride in her career. She knew what she wanted and she put in the work to achieve it. She rose with the sun and carried that brightness with her every day.

Kim had hilarious hidden talents. One of her unusual gifts came in her incredible ability to do things backwards. She could instantly recite any name, sign, or phrase- backwards, right on the spot! The hilarity that ensued was the best part. She couldn't be beat! (She'd even claim that she may have done life in the very same way.) Her wit and exuberance were incomparable. She must have had inner glitter-confetti flowing through her veins.

Kimberly lived fearlessly and unapologetically. She was a proud birth mother of her son, Hudson and kept him in her heart always. Her love was boundless; willing to give the world for someone else to thrive. You couldn't stop Kimberly from loving everyone and in a big way. With a heart that size, she would feel everything that you were feeling and cry or laugh with you even if she just met you. She made connections and an impact and built a community that loved and cherished her in her desert home.

She was a fiercely loyal sister, a doting daughter, and an irreplaceable friend. Kimberly left this world on Tuesday, June, 23, 2020. To our Mimi, you were meant for more than this, it's time to take the stage above: 5..6..7.. 8!

“ Oh Dawna! I am so sorry to hear of your daughters passing! I can't even find the words to express my sorrow

Natalie Lundahl - June 27 at 08:36 PM

“ I never knew Kimberly in her adult life. I grew up dancing with Dawna at FAOD, looking up to Kelley and Kara as my dance heroes! I remember Kimberly always being so adorable and curious, and shy at first, always watching her mama teach classes in the back. I watched her grow up year after year in that dance studio, coming into her own and watching her personality come out. It was incredible to see how much she had made of her life when I would see Kelley or Kara share photos with her on Facebook. I always thought how time flies and what a beautiful and inspiring woman she turned out to be - which is not surprising given the legacy of her beautiful family.

To the Campbells, I am so very sorry for your loss. I cannot even begin to fathom what you are all going through, but you have my love and all my thoughts and prayers, always!!

“ My niece Alissa Pratt brought Kimberly and her beautiful soul in my life. I'll treasure every minute I spent with her. We giggled over funny silly things together, she was a true beauty...inside and out. She called me her "New Aunt" My beautiful "New Niece" I'll miss you, you touched our lives in more ways then you know! Soar honey, you have earned your wings To Heaven and back

“ I remember dancing with Kelley as Dawna was teaching. Little Mimi would sit in the back room on the couch and be so patient watching us older girls dance. I remember the slumber parties at the Campbells and Mimi would watch us from across the room. Fast forward and I feel like we were the ones watching her. That smile, that roar, the confidence and the courage to let so many into her life. She told us how she fell at times but it was what you did after the fall that mattered most. I haven't seen Kim in person in years but I feel like we are still part of the Fallbrook group. #FAOD Till we see you again.

“ My first memory of Kimberly~ she must've been about 12 years old. Even at that age she was an accomplished dancer having won the junior ballroom dance championships. She performed in the Celebrate America Show in Logan Utah on the Utah State University campus for several years. Kimberly could be counted on to give a professional performance every time. I am heartbroken to hear the world has lost such a bright sweet soul as Kimberly. Not only was she beautiful — she truly had a sweet spirit. We send heartfelt condolences love and sympathy to her dear family.

“ I was absolutely heartbroken yesterday when I heard the news that my dear friend from High lost her battle with life. You would have never known she was struggling so deeply with depression. Her smile radiated in transforming a room, and her bubbling personality was entirely efficacious in making everyone feel loved. In a single word, and in a dark world in desperate need of it, she simply was LIGHT.

But isn't that how it usually goes... the ones you least suspect are struggling, are the ones who are fighting the hardest. Oh... they look perfect on the outside... beautiful, poised, charismatic... but the façade hides well the dark battle raging inside.

To each of us, may we do better at coming to REALLY understand those around us. To know them is to love them... and in knowing, we are saved. To those who wake up every morning to fight the same demons that left you so tired the night before... you are a warrior! Depression is an illness... not a weakness, and certainly not a choice! Do not feel that you need to hide in shame. Reach out. Reach up. Reach within. You are not alone. You are loved!

“ Kim you lit up every room, you had a way about you that made everybody smile. To see you in your element was poetry. You are loved and will be deeply missed.

“ Sweet Kimberly, I remember when I was so down about failing all these auditions for teams in Arizona, and you wanted me to dance with you with the Rush Chicks! You were always motivating and shedding your love and light on me. You helped me see past my insecurities and find myself more as a dancer. You always gave me nothing but good vibes and bled sunshine and positivity. I can't believe this is real, but I know heaven deserves you the most ☐ sweet girl, I will see you on the other side

“ Dawna and Scott, so very sorry to hear of the loss of your daughter. She's sounds like an incredible woman, just like her mom and Sisters. Sending love and prayers

Sue Harr - June 26 at 04:59 PM

“ Kimmie, you are so special. You brought joy wherever you went and your smile lit up the room. They way you made everyone feel loved and important was one of your best qualities. I will forever cherish our friendship, laughter and long talks. Thank you for living unapologetically you and encouraging others to follow their dreams. I am so sorry in your last days you felt so alone. I pray you ate now at peace.
Love you
Until we dance again

“ Kimberly your were the sunshine. When Stacey called, I hit my knees. She brought us together and we knew it our hearts you were ours to hold and love, and protect. I told her we didn't deserve you; but she said it perfectly. We did, we deserved you and you deserved us. Friendship among women isn't always easy; but with you it was starlight.
You may be in Heaven, and wearing glamorous wings, but for us, you're far from gone.
Please know we will "live each day like Kiki". We will dance, we will shine, we will love with pure hearts, and we will take the watch from here.
We love you Kim, and I think we always knew you were too good for any of us. I'll think of you every day. Till I see you again, Dance Baby, Dance.

“ Dear friends Dawna and Scott, We reach out to you with all our hearts and pray that you will feel our Savior's "arms of redeeming love" and the comfort that comes from reliving the countless moments of joy and support you have shared with Kim through the years. I picture Christ's welcome to her as she transitioned into His Light and Love.... Our family is praying for yours.

With love, Paula and Richard Watkins

“ Dear Dawna and Scott, I was shocked and heart broken to hear the news about your precious Kimberly. I didn't know her personally, but reading that beautiful obituary and looking at her lovely face, it's easy to visualize what a special young woman she was (and is). Our prayers are for your comfort and peace, and the same for my our dear friends, Heber and Shirley. We know the Savior's arms are around her, and families truly are forever. Your family is in our prayers. Gary and Vernett Jones

Vernett Jones - June 28 at 08:22 PM

“ I don't have a specific memory of Kimberly but I have wonderful memories of being taught by Dawna and dancing with Kelley in those classes for a time here in Federal Way, WA, eventually developing a love for ballroom dance myself. Dawna, Scott, Kelley and family, I am so sorry to hear of her passing and for the heartbreak that you must be experiencing. Her obituary paints a beautiful picture of her and her talent and personality come as no surprise to me! Your family will be in our prayers for comfort, peace and healing and I know you will be reunited with her again. Kathy (Arndt) Valles

“ To the Campbell Family:

I am so saddened by this. My thoughts and prayers are with you for the comfort and peace only the Savior can bring following such a tragic,heartbreaking event. I will remember happier times and fun experiences we shared in her life with much love and compassion.
